

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

It is the height of absurdity to believe that monopolistic control of the airwaves will promote a diversity of voices. The FCC itself has now become that singular voice. The public be damned, "war is peace".

This message itself is only allowed through the monopolistic control of a single DLS provider, SBC/Ameritech. Where's the choice?
